

INMED Scholarship Contribution

The purpose of this contribution is to assist INMED participants with the expenses related to their international study and service. Such expenses usually include airfare, enrollment fee, passport, visa, vaccinations, travel insurance, local transportation, and housing and meals at the international site.

INMED welcomes any individual or organization to make a contribution toward an individual's Scholarship Fund. A tax-deductible receipt will be sent for each contribution. To assure your contribution is credited to the correct individual and that you receive a proper receipt, please complete the following information and return this form together with your contribution. There is an eight percent administration fee retained for all gifts made to this fund.

For your convenience, INMED also offers the opportunity for electronic giving at http://inmed.us/student_scholarships.asp. Please note that there is a ten percent administration fee for all electronic gifts made to this fund.

In the case of a cancellation by the INMED participant, then all donations received by the Institute for International Medicine for the INMED participant will then be designated as a "general donation" to the Institute for International Medicine unless otherwise notified by the donor.
