

2014 Exploring Medical Missions Conference

Sticks in a Bundle Are Unbreakable

Equipping Healthcare Professionals & Students to Serve the Forgotten

The Institute for International Medicine

Welcome

It is a great joy to welcome you to the ninth annual INMED Exploring Medical Missions Conference!

I invite you to explore this year's theme - Sticks in a bundle are unbreakable. This Kenyan proverb embraces the discovery that the unity of like-hearted people and the multiplied strength of their individual efforts yield compelling results. In this light, we, with a passion for the health of our world's forgotten citizens, can realize progress - but only as we cooperate with one another.

Throughout the conference, we will explore the benefits of working in a multi-disciplinary healthcare team, apply best practices when working with cross-cultural patients, describe the common ethical dilemmas encountered when providing health services in a resource-poor community, list the common diseases found in resource-poor communities, describe the role of poverty in overall health, and apply appropriate clinical skills in a resource-poor setting.

My sincere hope is that you are inspired and equipped to serve the forgotten and that this event will challenge you to think inclusively, to learn in collaboration, to forge alliances, and to celebrate progress together in global health. Thank you for sharing in this marvelous journey.

Speakers

Jimmy Dodd is a Director of Cross International, a ministry supporting the world's most disadvantaged people through provision of food, shelter, and hope. A graduate of Wheaton College and Gordon-Conwell Seminary, Jimmy Dodd, for over twenty years, has galvanized the credibility of his message by personally partnering with colleagues in Haiti for that nation's development.

Paul Larson, MD is Director of Global Health Education at the UPMC St. Margaret Family Medicine Residency. Following training in Family Medicine and Tropical Medicine, he practiced for two years in Kapsowar, Kenya. Returning to the USA, he completed a MS in medical education, a fellowship in faculty development and teaches INMED students in Ghana or Kenya every year.

John Clements, MD, INMED Fellow, is an Ophthalmologist trained as a cornea specialist at Harvard. Dr. Clements is now serving as the Medical Director of the Boa Vista Eye Clinic in Angola, Africa. He is married to his wife, Lori, and they have three young boys.

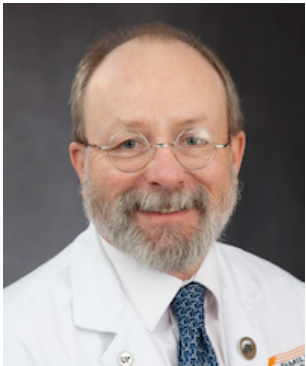

Oscar Paulo, MD is a native of the nation of Angola in southern Africa. He received medical critical care training in Brazil, was the Medical Officer for the United States Embassy in Angola, and today leads an initiative to recruit and train healthcare personnel for the rural Angolan province of Uige.

Speakers

Abigail Rattin, MD, MPH serves in Uganda with Action International Ministries as the Medical Coordinator. Utilizing her training in Family Medicine and Public Health, and her experience as a mom of a special needs child, she provides direct clinical care and consults for vulnerable children and children with special needs.

M. David Stockton, MD, MPH is Professor of Family Medicine and Director of the Travel Medicine Clinic at UTGSM Knoxville. Also a Fellow of the Academy of Wilderness Medicine and TN-1 DMAT, he has served with residents and medical students on international medical mission projects for over 30 years.

Nancy Crigger, PhD, ARNP is an Associate Professor of Nursing at Graceland University. For two decades she has led volunteer medical teams to Central America, and has been published extensively regarding her insights into cultural, ethical and best practices issues related to international service. Dr. Crigger is also a member of the INMED Board of Directors.

Peter Greenspan, DO is Associate Chairman, Department of OB-GYN, Truman Medical Center-Lakewood and Assistant Professor, University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Medicine. Dr. Greenspan, a messianic Jew and graduate of the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine, is a recognized authority on subjects of apologetics, medical ethics and human cloning.

Speakers

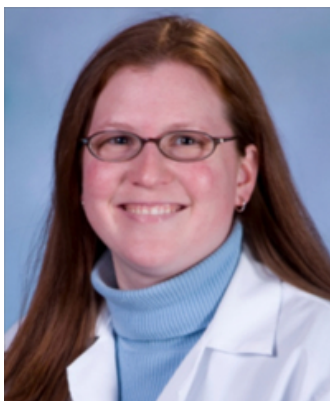

Ted Higgins, MD is a General and Vascular Surgeon at Research Medical Center. He has volunteered in the Dominican Republic each year since 1995, guiding the transition of his team from directly providing surgical care to training Dominican national physicians in surgical skills to serve their own people.

Don Philgreen, MD, a certified Advanced Life Support in Obstetrics (ALSO) instructor, is a faculty physician at the Research Family Medicine Residency. Don's medical experience includes four years service on the Gila River Indian Reservation. In 2004 he was named the Missouri Family Physician of the Year.

Lori Clements is mother of three young boys and facilitator of a ministry to blind persons in the nation of Angola, southern Africa, where she and her husband John have lived since 2011. Lori strives to make her children know they are a priority, as she balances family and outreach to the underprivileged.

Lisa Mohrman, MD practices General Surgery in St. Louis. Dr. Mohrman is the INMED 2012 – 2013 Fellow and served in Ghana for a year as a surgeon. She completed the INMED Diploma in International Medicine and Public Health during medical school in Cameroon. She has also participated in short term trips to the Dominican Republic and Mexico. She is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and the University of Missouri – Columbia Medical School.

Speakers

Brad Gautney, PNP, MPH, Founder and President of GHI, has worked with pediatric HIV programs in Haiti and East Africa for the past several years. His experience in designing and implementing HIV Early Infant Diagnosis programs for HIV exposed infants has allowed him to identify crucial gaps in the prevention of HIV, as well as the provision of comprehensive care for those babies exposed to HIV.

Jeff Adams is the Senior Pastor of Graceway Church. Previously, Jeff spent ten years pastoring in Latin America with his wife Cheryl and daughters, Sarah and Rebekah. He was gifted with the Spanish language while abroad and keeps it up by sharing his passion for the Word of God in English and Spanish at Graceway and as an international conference speaker.

Jay Grimwood, is the International Development Pastor of Graceway Church and has led international teacher training teams to South Korea, the Philippines, and Mongolia. He has also been involved with educational and humanitarian programs in Egypt, Zambia, Japan, Taiwan, and Kurdistan.

Dan Spurgeon and his wife, Julie, are the parents of three children (Lauren, Amy and Stephen). They reside in Newnan, GA. As "permanent – part time" mission workers with Operation Mobilization, their family has experience in non-medical contributions to medical missions in eight different countries since 2007.

Speakers

James Fyffe works as an Emergency Room Nurse, but his true passion is encouraging others to be fully engaged in the mission of God. He did that serving in Central America for two years, and intermittently since then. He is now preparing to move to Asia to continue that work as he partners with an existing ministry at a local hospital.

Dr. Stan Shaffer is a graduate of UMKC School of Medicine and Saint Paul School of Theology. He is a Neonatologist, working in Kansas City at St. Luke's Hospital, and in Haiti with Episcopal Relief and Development, the Global Birthing Home Foundation, and the Helping Babies Breathe Program. He is co-founder of Haitian Episcopal Learning Partnerships and Maison de Naissance, in Torbeck, Haiti.

Dr. Pholaphat Inboriboon is an Emergency Medicine Physician at Truman Medical Center. He serves as the Assistant Program Director of the residency and as the Director of International EM programs. He completed residency at the University of Illinois at Chicago and completed an International EM fellowship at the University of Rochester.

Kristell Willmer is a Family and Pediatric Nurse Practitioner who has served internationally in fourteen countries. She has a heart for mentoring others to work internationally, and helped start sustainable medical clinics in Kenya and Haiti. She attended the INMED intensive course in 2010 and completed her fellowship at the Ghana Baptist Medical Center in 2012.

Speakers

Dr. Scott Colliton received his undergraduate training at Arizona State University and North Dakota State University. He obtained his medical degree from the University of North Dakota. His pediatric training took place at the Children's Mercy Hospitals and Clinics in Kansas City, MO, and currently is on staff there in the section of General Pediatrics. He has a special interest in children with special health care needs, as well as, International Adoption Medicine.

Dr. Curtis Gongwer is a family physician at the South Bend Clinic. He attended Indiana University School of Medicine and the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine. In addition, he holds a certificate from the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene (CTropMed®). Dr. Gongwer has practiced medicine in Nepal, Kenya, and Ghana. He currently serves as assistant director for Crosspoint Global Health, a non-profit community health ministry.

Dr. Gale Oleson completed his Dermatology residency at the Mayo Clinic in 1986 following a rotating/family practice internship in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Since completing his training, he was in private practice in Jackson County until retiring from private practice at the end of 2012. During that time, his practice emphasis was in cosmetic and surgical dermatology.

Dr. Joseph LeMaster. Following residency in 1990, Joe and his wife, Judy, first served at Okhaldhunga Hospital in eastern Nepal, a 32-bed facility that provided the only medical care for 300,000 people. During a furlough, Joe completed a Masters in Public Health in Developing Countries at the London School of Tropical Medicine. Over the next ten years, he also promoted maternal-child health through the Okhaldhunga Primary Health Care Programme in Nepal, and conducted research on leprosy with The Leprosy Mission and Anandaban Leprosy Hospital.

Speakers

Lloyd Cleaver, D.O. is the founder of the Cleaver Dermatology Clinic. Dr. Cleaver is a Board Certified Dermatologist and in Mohs Surgery. He is a graduate of the INMED Diploma in International Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Cleaver has extensive international medicine experience.

Roy Moran, Th.M. Born from the soil of conservative fundamentalist theology, Roy possesses a “bleeding edge” mentality about seeing the Great Commission achieved in his lifetime. Having pioneered the Hybrid Church model, he is now helping churches world wide understand and implement disciple-making movement strategies alongside very traditional churches.

Patrick Railey, MD, is Director of Operation Mobilization Medical Ministries, an international Christian mission agency providing medical, dental, public health, relief, and development work in more than 100 countries. Dr. Railey is a leader in HIV prevention and protection of newborns, advocating de-stigmatization and compassion for those who are afflicted.

John Gibson, MD, is Program Director of the International Medicine Fellowship at the University of Texas Southwestern Health Sciences Center/John Peter Smith Hospital. He lived in Thailand from 1984-2004 training medical personnel and providing care for marginalized people throughout the nation. Dr. Gibson is a certified Diagnostic Ultrasound Instructor.

Speakers

Cameron Gongwer, MD, MPH, graduated from Indiana University School of Medicine, the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, and the University of Ghana School of Public Health. In 1999 he became the first physician to serve at Ankaase Methodist Hospital in Ghana, West Africa where he mentored INMED students beginning in 2005. After 14 years in Ghana, Dr. Gongwer now coordinates global health outreaches with The Mission Society and practices family medicine at the South Bend Clinic.

The mission of Hearts In Motion is to provide care and medical treatment for children, families, and communities through its programs and sponsorships in the U.S., and Central and South America. An additional goal is to provide opportunities for individuals to participate in short-term mission experiences. The impact of the trip experience on each team member is at least as great as the impact on the lives of the people we touch. Many lives are changed. Hearts In Motion works to complement resources already in place while respecting the culture of those whose lives it touches. Hearts In Motion accomplishes this with compassionate volunteers who unite their efforts and talents.

Hope Family Care Center (HFCC) is a non-profit, faith-based family practice providing quality primary health care to our underserved community on Kansas City, Missouri's east side. Our community is a medical desert with limited health care options, and HFCC is the only primary care provider operating within its primary service area. Our mission is to honor God by providing quality, personal healthcare. We envision all residents of our east side community receiving quality, personal health care, enabling them to achieve optimum health. Preventive health care will become normal, regardless of one's income. We believe that sustained high-quality, personal health care will contribute to the transformation of our community.

Mision de Candelilla is a non-profit organization which began taking doctors, nurses, and anyone willing to serve across the Rio Grande into Northern Coahuila, Mexico in 1986. It now serves ten rural villages with medical clinics, building projects, and evangelism. The trips are five to six days in length. We are committed to this region of Northern Mexico and building lasting relationships with our Mexican neighbors.

OM Medical Ministries seeks to further the Kingdom of God through demonstrating His love via the gift of medicine. We desire to connect people wanting to serve into opportunities to plant or strengthen local churches. This is done through provision of free, primary care clinics in areas of need. Both medical and non-medical people are greatly needed for every outreach.

Awards

Abigail Rattin, 2014 INMED International Medicine Award Recipient

Abigail Rattin, MD, MPH, is Medical Coordinator of Action International Ministries. A family physician with public health training at University of Massachusetts-Amherst. Since 2010 Dr. Rattin has been living and serving in the nation of Uganda, eastern Africa. From her particular experience as mother of a special needs child, she provides direct clinical care, consulting and advocacy for vulnerable children and those children with special needs. In this context she consistently brings to light not only the gravity of such disabilities in Africa, but also effective and culturally appropriate means of preventing and optimizing life and functionality for these individuals.

Paul Larson, 2014 INMED International Healthcare Preceptor Award Recipient

Following formal training in family medicine and tropical diseases, Paul Larson, MD, practiced for two years at Kapsowar Hospital in Kenya in association with the Africa Inland Church. Returning to the USA, he completed graduate studies in medical education and a fellowship in faculty development. Today, Dr. Larson is Director of Global Health Education at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center's St. Margaret Family Medicine Residency. He also continues to rigorously apply his teaching skills by supervising INMED Diploma students at the Baptist Medical Center in northern Ghana, where by personal example and by instruction he casts a vision for the next generation of globally minded healthcare leaders.

John & Lori Clements, 2014 Comninellis Award for Compassionate Service to Humanity Recipients

Preventable blindness is common in Angola, where childhood infections and older adult cataracts disable otherwise healthy people. In 2011 John and Lori Clements responded to this crisis and a clear call from God upon their lives. John, a fellowship-trained ophthalmologist, became an INMED International Medicine Fellow, serving at the Boa Vista Eye Center. John took the long-range approach, and in addition to caring for patients one-by-one he also organized a training program for Angolan national physicians to multiply these skills. Meanwhile, Lori Clements, in addition to raising three boys, took a lead in the Association for the Blind, providing craft training for those with more permanent disabilities.

Awards

Baptist Global Response, 2014 INMED Humanitarian Crisis Response Award Recipient

Organized in 2006, Baptist Global Response connects people who care with people in need - those suffering from acute problems like disasters, wars, and epidemics, as well as chronic ones including poverty, hunger, and poor health. Their more recent project sites include South Sudan where ongoing conflict created tens of thousands of refugees. BGR is drilling boreholes and providing thousands of families with safe drinking water and storage containers. BGR is also active in the Syrian Crisis, where those fleeing the escalating violence arrive in surrounding countries with no provisions. BGR is providing food parcels and hygiene kits to these families in need.

Hayley Stolzle, 2014 INMED HIV Leadership Award Recipient

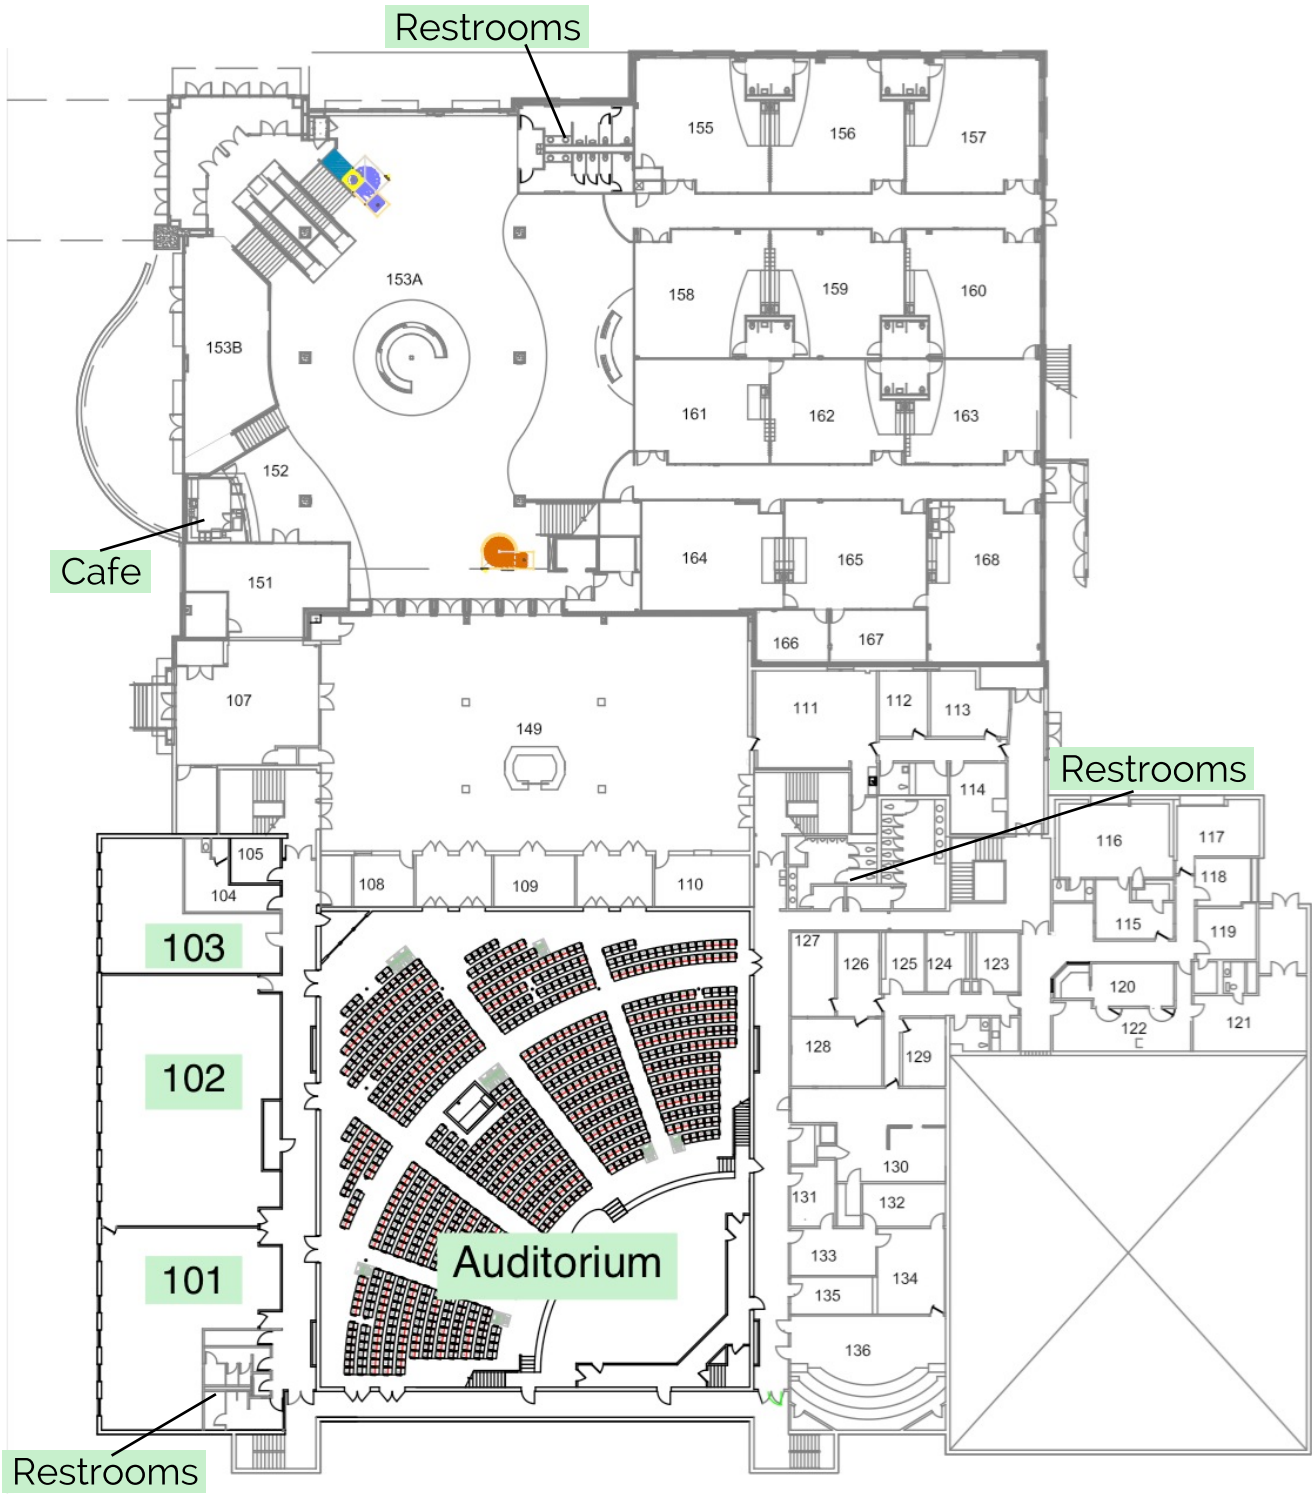

Hayley Stolzle, MPH, a graduate of the University of Kansas School of Public Health, in 2011 took her skills to the southern African nation of Botswana. In concert with the Peace Corp, she began serving the Botswana Ministry of Health in delivering to 12 villages health education on teenage pregnancy, sexual abuse, HIV prevention, and safe male circumcision, and empowerment of women. Her particular passions surround addressing the vulnerability of girls and women to HIV, men as partners in sexual health, safe sex negotiation skills and gender equality. Illustrating her commitment to the Botswana people, she has also become highly proficient in Setswana, that nation's dominant language.

Oscar Paulo, 2014 INMED National Healthcare Service Award Recipient

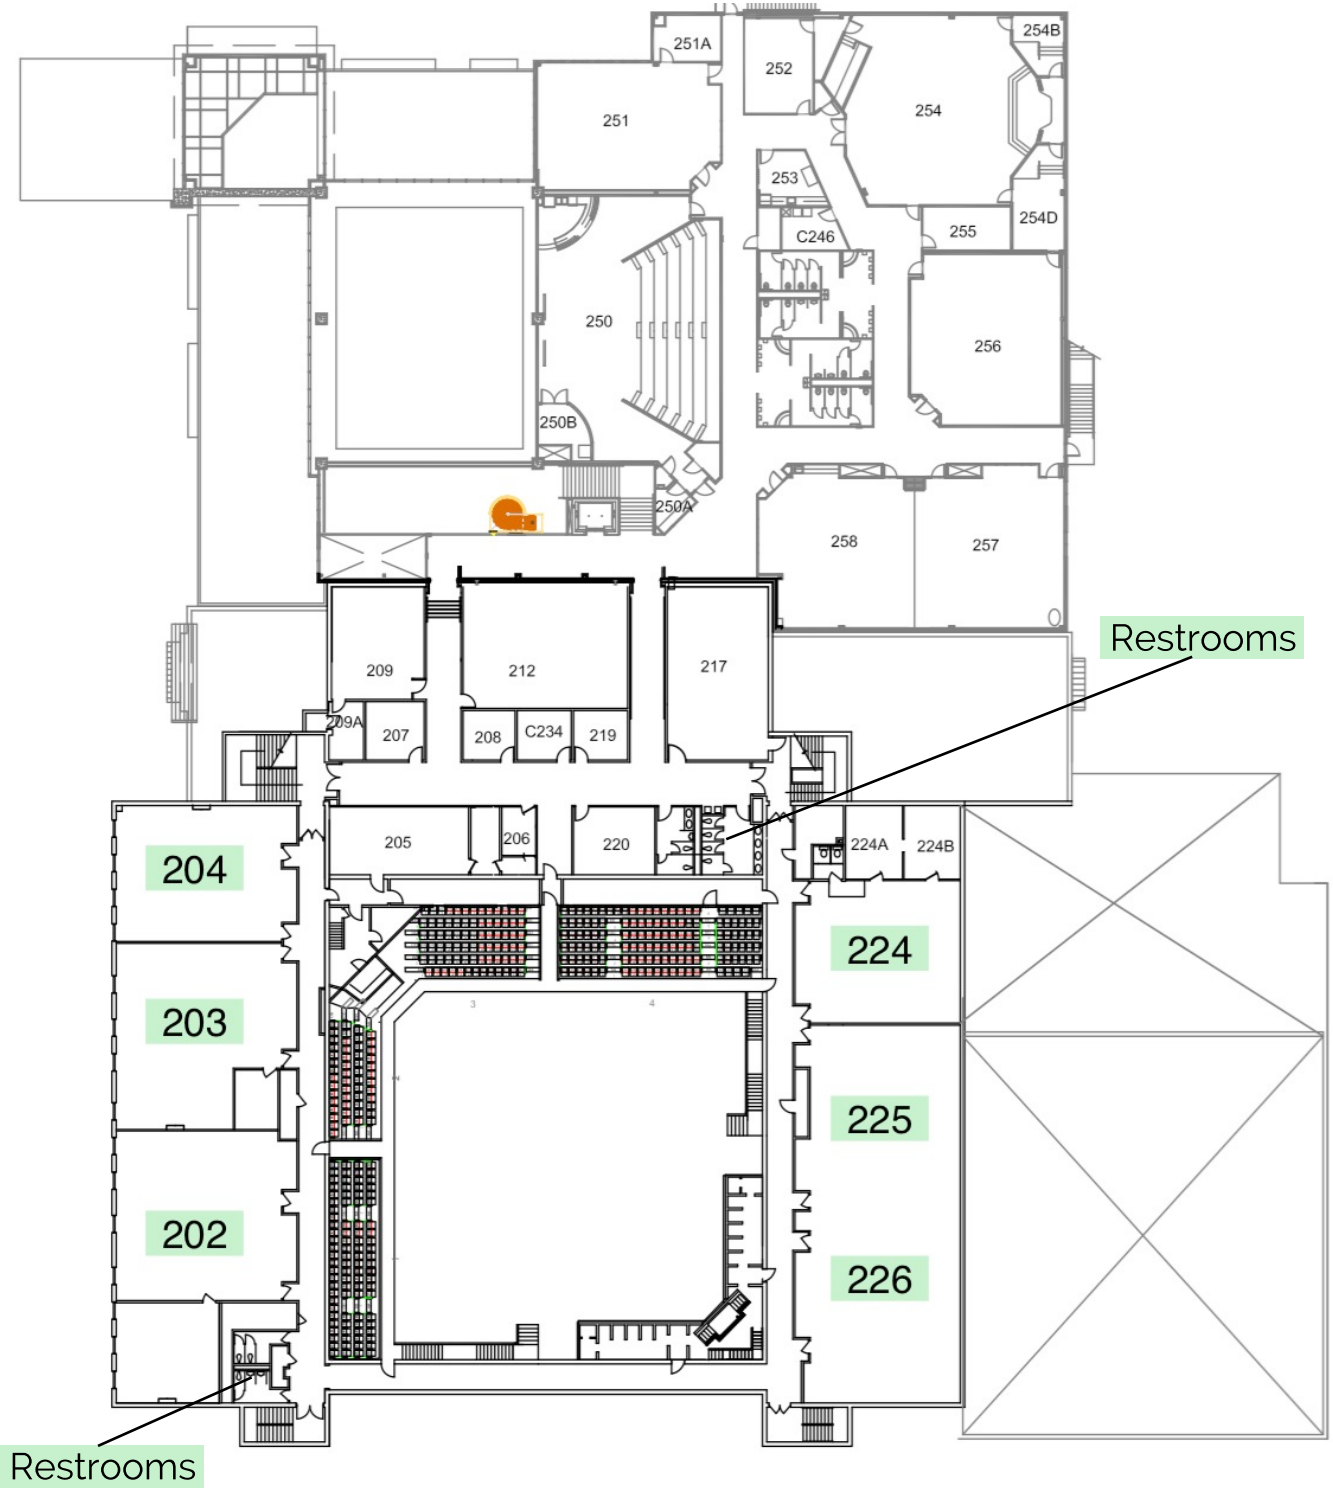

Oscar Paulo is a physician in his home nation of Angola, located in southern Africa. Following a forty-year civil war, Angola has the lowest health status on the entire continent. In 1989, in cooperation with the Angola Baptist Convention, Dr. Paulo founded a humble medical clinic caring for the poor in the suburbs of Luanda, Angola's capital city. Recognizing the shortage of trained healthcare personnel in the northeast region of Angola, Dr. Paulo also established a scholarship program to select and train Angolan medical students, personally mentoring them in professional, spiritual, and personal life skills for the unique challenges of this proud nation.
